Mamoth Acquires RecellOne to Expand Nationwide Electronics Recycling and IT Asset Disposition Services

Berwick, PA – April 30, 2025 – Mamoth, a leading provider of secure and sustainable IT asset disposition (ITAD) services based in Berwick, Pennsylvania, is proud to announce the acquisition of RecellOne, a respected e-waste recycling company operating in Northwest Ohio and Southeast Michigan.

RecellOne is known for its commitment to responsible recycling and convenient service offerings, including onsite electronic waste pickup and recycling for businesses and free drop-off for residents in key areas such as Toledo, Maumee, and Perrysburg. The company is recognized for its strong focus on data security, adhering to and exceeding Department of Defense and R2 Certified standards.

“This acquisition represents a significant step forward in our mission to deliver secure, environmentally responsible IT asset disposition services at scale,” said Anthony Boberick, CEO of Mamoth. “RecellOne’s strong local presence and reputation for excellence in e-waste collection and smartphone buyback aligns with our commitment to expanding access to responsible recycling nationwide.”

RecellOne also operates one of the most successful smartphone buyback programs for businesses across the United States—adding valuable capabilities to Mamoth’s growing portfolio of IT lifecycle services.

The acquisition strengthens Mamoth’s regional presence in the Midwest and paves the way for nationwide service expansion, providing businesses and consumers with enhanced access to trusted, certified e-waste solutions. With this move, Mamoth is better positioned to serve enterprise customers, small businesses, and residential communities coast to coast. “Many of our existing customers already have facilities across the United States,” said Anthony Boberick, “This location allows us to have a closer geographical location to many of them resulting in reduced pickup times and cost savings.”
