Schupan & Sons, Inc. Welcomes New Vice President of Supply Chain, Johnson Go

Kalamazoo, MI, December 18, 2020 – Schupan & Sons, Inc. (www.schupan.com) announces the addition of Johnson Go as the new Vice President of Supply Chain to its Materials Trading division.

“Schupan is thrilled to add an individual with the experience and skill set that Johnson possesses,” Andy McKee, President of Schupan Materials Trading, reported. “Johnson’s addition to our team shows a commitment to serving every facet of the supply chain and providing value to our business partners across the globe.”

Johnson Go joins Schupan after spending the last 15 years in the aluminum sector. He has previous experience in research and development, commercial, and global strategy positions for Novelis, Crown, and TaTa Steel in Europe, China and the United States. His knowledge will aid Schupan in upstream supply chain growth and will uniquely position the company to serve every aspect of the aluminum sector.

“This is a natural evolution of our developing global and national partnerships,” Schupan CEO Marc Schupan stated, speaking of the new addition to the global trading team. “Schupan has experienced tremendous growth in recent years and Johnson’s capabilities and global alliances reflect our commitment to being the best trading partner in the industry.”
